

CRITICAL THEORY WORKSHOP
ATELIER DE THÉORIE CRITIQUE
Sorbonne - EHESS / Paris, France
Summer Research Program 2019
Founding Director: Gabriel Rockhill

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

Location:	EHESS, 105 boulevard Raspail, 75005 Paris, France
Tentative Dates:	July 1-19, 2019
Contact:	Director, Gabriel Rockhill <gabriel.rockhill@gmail.com>
Languages:	English & French (events in French will be translated into English so knowledge of French is beneficial but not a requirement)
Eligibility:	Anyone with the requisite background, including faculty, graduate & advanced undergraduate students, autodidacts
Program Fee:	$950 (tenure-track/tenured faculty or salaried worker) $750 (anyone who is not tenure-track, tenured or salaried) $550 (reduced tuition in cases of clear economic need)
Invited Speakers:	Paola Bacchetta, Eric Hazan, Antonio Negri, Jennifer Ponce de León, Jacques Rancière

The Critical Theory Workshop/Atelier de Théorie Critique is an intensive research program whose primary objective is to provide an international forum for trans-disciplinary and comparative work in critical social theory, in the most expansive sense of the term. Participants are exposed to the work of contemporary thinkers and engage with current debates in the Francophone world and beyond. Special attention is paid to traditions of thought that have been structurally suppressed in the academy, including Marxism, anarchism, the black radical tradition, anticolonial theory, anti-capitalist feminism and radical ecological thought.

The Workshop, which takes place at the EHESS in central Paris and does not follow the traditional structure of a course, is comprised of three interlocking components:

- Débats: invited speakers debate a common theme or current research projects.
- Rencontres: intellectuals are invited to participate in interviews on their work.
- Groupes de travail: the participants workshop their own research.

The overall objective is to bring together a diverse panoply of thinkers from different horizons in order to cultivate productive, collaborative and transdisciplinary research.

APPLICATION AND ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Applications (the due date is March 15, but there is a rolling admissions policy so early applications are welcome): <http://criticaltheoryworkshop.com/apply/>

Website: <http://criticaltheoryworkshop.com>

FB: <https://www.facebook.com/criticaltheoryworkshop>

Twitter: @CTW_ATC